photograph had been triken of the two men, the referee called the men to the center of the ring and gave them instructions. A moment later the fight was on, Round 1.-Nelson missed as left and it was twenty seconds before they separated. The crowd hissed and Nelson led with left to head. They again clinched and the referee warned McGovern for holding. There was another clinch and McGovern sent a hard left to the head. They were clinched at the bell and as they went to their corners, there was nothing but hisses.

Round 3.—McGovern tried left to wind twice, but was blocked in both aitempts, They clinched and the refree could not got them to break. Nelson drove two lefts to face and there was the same old zlinch. McGovern drove a left to the jaw and missed a hard right. McGovern uppercut with a hard right and then sent a right to the jaw. Nelson sent a left to the head and ducked a victous left. Nolson sent another left to the face and the men were clinched at the gons.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

What Attractive Advertising Will

Do to Move Property.

Last Sunday's real estate section of The Times-Dispatch is still attracting deserved attention, not only from the real estate agents, but from the public at large. It would be difficult to imagine as more impressive display of the forces that are making Richmond grow than the advertisement of new homes and the accounts of buildings erected which we carried in that section.

One of the most talked of advertisements was T. M. Wortham & Co.'s, which showed a photograph of part of Monument Avenue with the caption: "Your home is your monument, and the Avenue is the place for it." This was repeated in a local paper Monday atternoon, and references to the results obtained Mr.

team has not been decided upon as yet, although there are more than a hundred suggestions on the desk of the sporting editor of The Times-Dispatch.

Many have suggested the same name, but there is, nevertheless, a variety of them that will give one person an hour's work in looking over.

A few of the names suggested as the most appropriate to dub the Richmond aggregation are printed below.

The young lady whose suggestion is accepted will be notified at once through this paper, and she will be given a ticket that will admit her to all of the games played on the Richmond diamond. On this ticket she can also take her escort. In other words, the ticket will admit two to all the games.

Here are some of the names suggested:

A married lady on Church Hill suggests either of these names for the Richmond nine: "The Stonewalls," "Senators." "Colonels," "Governors," "Alertes," "Alertes,"

"Alerts."
A fourteen-year-old lassie thinks that the team should be dubbed "White Stockings," but she adds that "Premiers," "Colts," "Stars" or "Regulars" would suit her Just as well.
Another lady suggests "Dreadnaughts" as the feroclous name for the ball-tossers, and supplements, tit's suggestion with the name "Romans," Richmond being suggestive of Rome because of its seven hills, she thinks.

There was some rough work in the early rounds by the Dane. He frequently used his right elbow, and bore in on McGovern repeatedly with his head.

Nelson deserved the decision, but as no decisions are rendered when both men are on their feet, the fight is classed as a draw. Nelther man was knocked down during the fight, but McGovern slipped to the floor in the fifth round while trying to escape from the Dane.

The first fight, that with Gardner, is at present scheduled for May, and the others will follow as quickly thereafter as Hart May desire.

The Louisville man realizes that the public is very sore on him, and he appears to be willing to go any length to convince the sporting fasternity that he is still the champion. In support of this position, Hart to-day authorized the sporting editor of the Times to announce his willingness to meet Burns before any club in America, harring the Los Angles Club, for $5,000 a, side, and if Hart falls to put his opponent away in twenty rounds Burns is to take the coin. Hart has deposited $1,000 with the sporting editor of the Times to bind the match. The Louisville boy also says he will fight Burns for $1,000 a side before any Philadelphia Club, and if he fails to beat him forfeit his money. It looks very much as though the "marvellous" one means business.
